SPORT PEEPS

Last Saturday night, lovers of hockey by radio were thrilled by the great game between Toronto and Montreal. It was the second game of the series to determine the Champions of the world, and thus the holders of hockey's greatest prize, the Stanley Cup. Toronto had lost one game and was determined to even up. They worked like demons therefore, providing thrills that brought the crowd of 15,000 to their feet repeatedly.

Montreal won that second game largely through the skill of one man, he who guarded the net. The records show that the Montreal goals stopped 41 shots at his citadel, while the Toronto boy was handling but 16. But everybody knows that it is not the shot at the goal that counts, if it is stopped; it is the one that dents the hemp. The player that fools the goalie is the boy that gets the honor. And the maroon won. Then on Tuesday of this week, they took the third game by 4-1 and thus made it three straight wins.

Gar Wood with his power-house boat has been trying to beat his own record of 124 miles per hour. With a rating of over six thousand horse power now, he was able to cover the measured mile at 118. While this is not quite up to the record, it is away beyond the comprehension of most people. How any boat can be made to travel at such a speed through water is very mysterious.

The visit of the Detroit hockey team, Olympics, to Vancouver gave the coast crowd a chance to see their boys in action against the fast stepping chaps from the auto city. The score was 5-1 in favor of the Canadian team, thus reflecting much credit upon the champions of the Northwestern league.

Race tracks in New York will see a real bid this season for the presence of the fair sex. Admission prices just announced place the tickets for women at $1.75, while those for men are advanced to $2.50. They probably figure that the women will make up the difference by betting more than the men.

Ripley pictured Martha Sutton the other day as a super basketball player of Texas, as she had made 280 points in 11 games. All but one member of the Grads team have better records than that. Fry 283, Belanger 254, McCormick 289, MacBurrey 326, and Noel McDonald 381. Ripley should come to Canada for a few records, if he wants something worth mentioning. "Come up and see us sometime."

DEDICATE NEW ANGLICAN CHURCH

(From the Viking News)

The impressive ceremonies of dedicating the new Anglican church were conducted by the Right Rev. Lord Bishop Burgett, of Edmonton, Wednesday morning, April 3rd, at 11 o'clock. The new edifice was filled to listen to the masterful address. The sermon was preached by Ven. Archdeacon Cornish. Assisting clergymen were Bishop Chaplin, Rev. J. C. Matthews of Edmonton, father of Rev. T. J. Matthews, the present vicar; Rural Dean, Rev. Bateman of Wainwright; Rev. Anderson of Edgerton and Rev. Walker of Tofield.

The Bishop wore scarlet robes and the ceremony of dedication was very impressive. The altar looked beautiful in a mass of flowers. At the organ was Mrs. Gillespie assisted by which is a credit to the district.

Viking Creamery Butter Scores
Highest in Dominion Average

(From the Viking News)

Statistics are, as a rule, very dry and uninteresting reading, and are often glanced through very carelessly, but occasionally one gets an eye-opener which causes one to sit up and take notice. Such a one is a state statement sent out by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Dairy and Cold Storage Branch, showing the quality of butter graded during the year 1934 by Dominion Butter Graders. The grades for the Dominion of Canada were as follows:

| Boxed     | 1st grade | 2nd grade | 3rd grade | no grade     | Average |
|-----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|--------------|---------|
| per cent  | per cent  | per cent  | per cent  | Score Points |         |
| 1,475,437 | 85.41     | 11.36     | 2.79      | 0.44         | 91.552  |

This looks like a pretty good shoving for the Dominion. 85.41% of the butter graded went into the first class. But when one comes to the province of Alberta the showing is not quite so good. The grades for the province were as follows:

| Boxed    | 1st grade | 2nd grade | 3rd grade | no grade     | Average |
|----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|--------------|---------|
| per cent | per cent  | per cent  | per cent  | Score Points |         |
| 265,960  | 78.01     | 15.04     | 6.23      | 0.72         | 91.065  |

Here we find that only 78.01% of the butter went into the first class, or 7.4% less than the average for the Dominion, which would point to the fact that our province is careless with respect to the quality of butter fat delivered to the creameries, or else our creamery operators are not producing the quality of butter that they should from the cream delivered. Whatever the reason it is apparent that something should be done about it. Alberta is a great dairy province and if we are to continue holding a market in British Columbia and in Eastern Canada we will have to produce a quality at least equal to the average for the Dominion, and if we are to command a premium, which is always desirable, we will have to produce a commodity that is better than the average.

"Familiarity breeds contempt" and "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country" are expressions with which we are all familiar and the truth of which we are forever being confronted with, which leads us to the really startling thing about these statistics. On making enquiry at our local creamery as to the grades (and speaking of grades that means that every pound of butter that was made in the factory is included in this memorandum) of butter for last year we find that for the Viking Co-operative Creamery the results are as follows:

|----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|--------------|---------|
| per cent | per cent  | per cent  | per cent  | Score Points |         |
| 8,708    | 96.2      | 3.8       | none      | none         | 92.444  |

Ingenius! 96.5% of the butter went into first grade, and of the balance all, or the small percentage of 3.8% was second grade. None of third grade and none of no grade. This is truly startling information for those of us who did not heretofore know, and it reflects most commendably not only on the farmers who delivering cream to this factory but on the creamery operators as well, for the farmers must be delivering good cream and the creamery men must be making the very best butter possible out of that cream.

This Viking Creamery is an organization which has been in our midst for over twenty-five years, and maybe we are inclined to just take it for granted, but statistics such as these bring us up with a jolt and force us to realize that this thing which we have for so long been taking for granted is something of which we should be justly proud; which is a tremendous asset to our town, and which should be supported, boosted and encouraged in every way possible.

Records of the creamery show that in the last twenty years this factory has turned out over seven million pounds of butter. Four years ago the make went over the half million pound mark for the year and has been over that mark each year since. Twenty years ago the make was less than an eighth of a million pounds a year. The most phenomenal increase was in the year 1922 when the make more than doubled that of the previous year.

Just a few years ago the Viking Co-operative Creamery Association adopted a very appropriate, artistic and arresting wrapper for their prints; a picture of an old sea-ship anchored in a bay and some stalwart armoured Norsemen on the shore. When we see one of these wrappers we are sure that the product enclosed thereby is of the first quality, and we do not hesitate to purchase it for what it is, good, clean, wholesome butter made in our own Viking Co-operative Creamery.

Social Credit Convention

Delegates from various social credit groups throughout Sedgewick constituency met at Sedgewick last Saturday and held a convention which was well attended.

Hugh McDonald of Lougheed, was elected president and W. G. Murray of Sedgewick secretary. The constituency was divided into twelve zones and twelve directors added to the executive. Sigurd Gottlieb was appointed director for the Viking district zone.

James Gordon, of Strome, chairman pro-tempore of the meeting and relinquished his duties when the permanent president was elected.

Seven delegates were elected to attend the convention to be held in Edmonton the latter part of this month. The northern part of the constituency will be represented by Messrs. Jas. Milne and George West.

Local groups were represented as follows:

Lake Thomas: S. Gottlieb, Thos. Sorenson, Robt. Hanson.

Poplar Hill: Jas. Milne, Tom Milne, Fred Dundas.

Maple Lodge: Archie Craig, Nels Hafso, Ole Boraas.

Viking: G. G. Purvis, Fred Hanson, Then Kjar.

Ex-Premier Brownlee
Scores Aberhart Plan

Says "It Can't Be Done"

Ex-Premier Brownlee addressed a large gathering in the Elks hall last Friday evening, the main topic of his address being devoted to Social Credit, or an attempt to show what he believed to be the fallacies of the Aberhart proposals.

Ensiling of seed seeds under proper conditions destroys their ability to germinate, according to experiments conducted at Manitoba Agricultural College. These tests were made over a period of years by Dr. G. P. McRostie, professor of Agriculture, University of Manitoba, and W. Tildesley, M. Sc. assistant on seed research, under the direction of and financed by the line elevator operators through the North West Grain Dealers' Association.

A pamphlet outlining the finding of the survey has been published and is available free of charge at all line elevators or may be obtained by writing to the North-West Grain Dealers' Association, Winnipeg.

The pamphlet has been prepared in a manner which is readily understood by the layman and can be read in the course of a few minutes.

The next seed means has not been determined as yet. Present indications are that various acids developed through ensiling play a prominent part in rendering the seed seeds in silage safe for feeding by destroying their germination.

Tests were conducted covering the following ordinary western seeds: Barley Mustard, Barnyard Grass, Blue Burr, Broad Leaf Plantain, Cow Cockle, Falx Flax, Hares Ear Mustard, Indian Mustard, Lamb's Catchfly, Leafy Spurge, Night Flowering Catchfly, Perennial Sow Thistle, Purslane, Red Rooted Purweed, Russian Thistle, Shepherd's Purse, Stinkweed, Tumbleweed, Wild Oats, Wild Buckwheat, Yellow Foxtail.

The seed seeds lost their ability to germinate after two weeks ensiling. This new survey will do much to add to the assistance which line elevator companies have been to farmers in their fight against weeds.

Labor Urged to Quit C.C.F.

Calgary, April 4—A motion urging the Alberta section of the Canadian Labor party to withdraw from the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was before the Calgary branch of the party for decision to-day.

Presented at a special meeting in the Labor Temple last night, no action was taken on the motion and discussion was left over until next Wednesday.

Labor and the United Farmers of Alberta are co-partners in the C.C.F. and the charge was made by W. D. Stovet, sponsor of the resolution, that the U.F.A., under its present set-up, did not truly reflect the spirit of the C.C.F.

AUTOS PAY THEIR WAY

Alberta's provincial purse would be in a sorry plight but for the owners of the 86,110 automobiles and trucks distributed amongst 11.4 per cent of the population, judging by some interesting statistics obtained from the provincial accounts of the last five years.

These show that in the period 1930-34, the total general revenue of the province amounted to $75,638,129, and of this $8,467,597 was obtained from gasoline tax and $8,411,853 from licenses. These figures prove therefore, that of the $75,638,129 total revenue in the five-year period $16,879,450 has been obtained from two taxes alone, a figure which on the average amounts to 22.3 per cent of the total general revenue from one class of the population and confined to two taxes alone.

The following table prepared by the Montreal Motorists' League from the public accounts of Alberta shows the total revenue each year, the amount obtained from gas tax and licenses, with the percentage in each case of the general revenue, in which the two taxes prepared:

Year Total Rev. Gas Tax % Licenses % Total %

could be enacted only by a sovereign state having complete control over its major financial institutions with full and complete powers of taxation and with equally full and complete control over trade and commerce.

He quoted from evidence taken in the legislature during Major Douglass' past visit here to substantiate his claim.

The visit of the ex-premier was sponsored by the Viking U.F.A. local. Mr. Andrews, M.L.A., who accompanied him, gave a brief address in which he reviewed some of the legislation enacted during the present government's tenure of office.

Paul Roland, three miles east of town, met with a very painful accident last Saturday while trying to get his tractor started. He was putting gas in the primer plug when in some manner the charge exploded and hit him with full force in the face. His right eye was injured and he also suffered some painful burns.

It is noted that grain deliveries to Bruce elevators have set a new high record. Grain received totalled higher than at this date in the past two years. With grades lower and prices better than other years, this, on the whole, indicates a more prosperous condition.

Reviews Proposed

He reviewed Mr. Aberhart's proposals for a $25 per month basic dividend, a just price for commodity, and a continuous flow of credit, as well as proposed loans to farmers of $1,500.

"Loans of $1,500 for 90,000 farmers amounts merely to $135,000,000, and $25 per month for 400,000 adults is only the trim little, tidy little sum of $120,000,000 per year. All that in a province of some 700,000 people, still in the early development stage of its provincial life, with few native corporations, few large incomes, and but comparatively small accumulation of wealth.

But that is the proposal and, Mr. Citizen, with your interest in the province, that is the issue. Can you remain indifferent to the threat it offers to the well-being of this province? Dare you risk the chaos and confusion that will result from any attempt to put it into effect?"

Dividends To Earners

Dealing with the $25 basic dividend to take care of the "bare necessities," Mr. Brownlee declared the government had long since recognized its duty in seeing that its citizens were properly fed and clothed. The government accepted this responsibility and it was only through federal co-operation that the province had been able to shoulder the $3,264,747 cost of relief last year, he pointed out.

Dividends Limited

He pointed out that Major Douglass now limits the application of the basic dividend to those receiving income under four times the basic dividend.

"I frankly admit," he said, "that I am not in the habit of signing blank cheques. I will not therefore blindly subscribe to any plan simply because it carries with it the general trade name of Social Credit."

Need For Control

Claiming that he was supported by the Douglas Credit League of Canada and Major Douglas himself, Mr. Brownlee charged that any such plan

A TEA FOR EVERY TASTE

'SALADA' TEA

A Welcome Declaration Of War

The people of Canada, under the leadership of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough, supported by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, all political parties, the churches, the press, the medical profession, organizations of every description, and men and women of goodwill throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, have declared their welcome to the twenty-ninth anniversary of the accession of King George V. to the throne of the world's greatest empire on May 6 by a declaration of war.

Canadians are a peace loving people; they abhor war, and their whole history proves that they never engage in war except when absolutely forced to it in self-defence, but, once in, they fight to the finish with all the strength, energy and determination they can command. Fighting in their own defence, the Canadians remain on the defensive but adopt vigorous offensive tactics to bring about the defeat of the common enemy and safeguard their own existence. History proves this to be true.

So, with the lives of thousands of their people at stake, all Canada has decided to mark the Silver Jubilee of His Majesty, who has been well deserved as a kingly man and a manly king, by a declaration of war upon a common enemy, who, they say, are responsible to protect us in this war is—money. Money is necessary in the conduct of a war, as in 1914-1919 Canada supplied it in the hundreds of millions, yes, billions. In this new and humanitarian war a substantial war chest is essential to success, although not in the enormous sums referred to above. Every Canadian family is asked to contribute to the extent of their ability.

Mankind is forced to wage a continuing war against disease, and looking back over the last few years it is gratifying to know that taken as a whole, it has been a successful war. A few years ago the great scourge was tuberculosis, the White Man's Plague, which topped the list of diseases afflicting the race. To-day it is in retreat, now far down in the list, with a steadily diminishing number of victims.

Yellow fever, which once counted its victims by the thousands, is unknown; smallpox has been eradicated; diphtheria, which carried off children by the thousands, has been conquered through the discovery and use of antitoxins; and many other scourges are now practically unknown, with the result that the expectation of life has been more than doubled, nearly trebled, within the past 100 years.

On the other hand, the ravages of cancer continue to increase until to-day it is responsible for more deaths than any other disease with the single exception of heart disease. Cancer was second on the list, and in 1933 was responsible for 10,046 deaths in Canada as compared with 7,614 only seven years previously in 1926, and the toll is progressively rising higher each year, having increased from 93.9 per 100,000 in 1931-32 to 100 per 100,000 in 1933.

This is the common enemy that now calls Canada to arms and has resulted in the Silver Jubilee of His Majesty.

Contrary to what we view widely held, cancer is not an incurable disease. It can be cured if it is discovered and treatment commenced in its early stages. Early diagnosis is the all-important factor. But to secure early diagnosis involves, first, education of the public, the provision of a largely increased number of qualified diagnosticians, and facilities for treatment throughout the whole country. These are the essential munitions in this war, and they cost money.

The people of Canada, the rich, the merely well-to-do, even the poor are called upon to enlist in the army of attack on this dread enemy which is now on the offensive against our people and scoring a victory over us. As a Canadian people we must now take the offensive, take it boldly and in a large way, and when we do, success will be achieved.

The idea of the King George V Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund, "Canada's King" is an admirable one. It will be administered by trustees and every dollar will be spent in Canada, in the saving of Canadian lives. To establish that fund each Canadian family and household is asked to contribute one dollar, or as many more dollars as they can. Contributions may be sent to the King George V Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund, Ottawa, who will acknowledge every donation received, large or small, on a card bearing the portraits of the King and Queen.

Thus does Canada propose to commemorate the Silver Jubilee of His Majesty by the creation of a permanent national anti-cancer fund. It will be an expression of the loyalty and affection of the Canadian people to His Majesty, and the time a tangible, lasting and humanitarian record of a great national event.

We are glad to add the support of this column to the nation-wide appeal now being made in support of this effort to commemorate a reign that is one of the finest in British history in a manner which has received the gracious approval of His Majesty and as something designed to be of lasting value to suffering humanity.

The Right of Way

According to the new traffic regulations in England the pedestrian has the right of way and motorists are not entitled to make anything "pull back" at a crossing. Anybody magistrate, Ivan Snell, stated on the 25th that a woman motorist was in a bind.

A police judge says women now do 70 per cent. of the driving. But men still hold the steering wheel.

Building Traffic Subways

Paris Found First One To Be Huge Success

Because of the success of the first traffic subways, Paris is pushing the construction of additional ones. These passages are designed to insure the continuity of the circular road built in place of the former fortifications surrounding Paris. This road, complete, will be nearly 20 miles long, 133 feet wide, and will permit the passage of six rows of cars. Sidewalks on each side of the road are over three feet wide. Where this circular route meets the main arteries leading out of Paris it has been attempted, wherever possible, to direct traffic around a central plateau which serves as an axis. This eliminates to a certain extent the danger resulting from the crossing of cars from various directions and helps to reduce traffic tie-ups.

Arcades For London Streets

Expert Predicts City's Shopping Centres Will Be Covered

Women will soon be able to do all their window-gazing under cover in London, according to a merchandising expert, who says that the shopping centres will be a series of arcades. Mannequins will emerge from the shelter of the stores, where they are already continuously on display, and appear in windows in place of the present wax figures, which have gone from the realistic to the fantastic and back again.

WAS CONSTIPATED FOR 30 YEARS

Woman's Long Search For a Remedy

The trouble with most remedies for constipation, as this woman found, is that they give only temporary relief. Having at last, found a permanent corrective, she writes to tell us about it—

"For upwards of 30 years I was a victim of acute constipation. I tried practically everything that was available, but nothing was an economic case, and even a new remedy I tried helped for a day or two, after that I was just as bad as ever. Three years ago I took my first taste of Kruschen Salts and every morning since, and every morning so long as I have had it, I feel myself improved."

Kruschen Salts is Nature's recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The six salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to a regular action, our system is thus kept clear of those impurities which, allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system.

English Town Thrift

The changing times have not changed the Yorkshireman's thrif. When the people of East Winton in North Yorkshire met to arrange their jubilee celebrations they found the village still had a balance left over from the coronation of Their Majesties 25 years ago. So East Winton will use it to celebrate their jubilee.

Object To Uniform

Typists of Turkey are angry over the threatened rule of the Turkish government that they must wear a standardized uniform. A bill introduced in the Ankara parliament declares that the girls have dressed too frivolously, and they should wear a dark and simple costume. The typists declare such a rule would prevent them from developing their individuality.

Best She Could Do

A rather stout woman was making herself a nuisance in the big shop which was holding its annual sale. Nothing, it seemed, would suit her, and the unfortunate shop-assistant was beginning to get a little weary.

"Haven't you anything ready-made that will fit me?" asked the customer at last.

"Yes, the umbrellas and the handkerchiefs are downstairs, madam," the girl replied.

"Growing" A Sea Wall

Rice Grass Effective In Preventing Flooding Of Land

The cultivation of rice grass on the low-lying lands of Essex and other similar mud flats in England may result in turning thousands of acres of waste land into profitable pasture. Sparta grass became known in Great Britain about 100 years ago through a few seeds dropping accidentally from some cargo ships at Southampton Docks. They took root and formed a hybrid with British grass which attracted the attention of agricultural scientists who saw the possibility of "growing" their sea wall instead of spending thousands of pounds on sea defence to prevent the land being flooded. Experiments have proved that such a wall is not worn away by the tide, and now Holland and Australia are planting rice grass with a view to converting large tracts of marshes into pastures.

Bonus Paid On Coal

Canada Has Paid Out Over Six Million Dollars Since 1928

Since 1928 Canada has paid $6,781,176 in subventions and other forms of assistance to aid the coal industry in the Maritime provinces and Alberta, a return tabled in the House of Commons said. Of that amount $4,457,992 went to the Maritimes and $1,859,958 to Alberta.

Payments made generally by the trade and commerce department to assist in placing Canadian coal used in the manufacture of iron or steel on a basis of equality with imported coal amounted to $465,273, while "additional payments" made under the Domestic Fuel Act, to the Maritime coal industry totalled $87,953.

From 1931 to the present the amount of bonus paid on wheat was $12,708,576. The cut-off in the year 1931-32 when the five-cents-a-bushel bonus was in effect was $10,808,428.

Correspondence Of Kings

Findings In Palestine Date Back To 700 B.C.

The correspondence between two kings dating back to the time of Jeremiah, 700 B.C., has been discovered by the archaeological expedition led by Prof. J. L. Starkey, of Great Britain, it was learned.

The discovery was made at Tel Ad-Dumweir, ancient city of Lachish. It consists of 12 Ostracon fragments, which are taken to be an exchange of secret letters between the kingdom of Judea and the kingdom of Babylon or Egypt.

Details of the findings were made known to the Palestine government, but were not given out to the press.

Should Be Lucky

Schoolmaster In England Has Collection Of Unusual Horsehoes

A schoolmaster at Wimbledon is an ardent collector of horsehoes. But not ordinary horsehoes. He specializes in ancient horsehoes. The walls of one of his rooms are covered with scores of them. They even overflow to other rooms. One of his horsehoes was discovered on the site of a Roman camp. In all probability it was cast from the foot of a charger ridden by a Roman general.

School Named After Prince

The Prince of Wales has consented to his name being given to a school for under-privileged boys established in British Columbia along lines identical with similar schools set up in Australia for some years past. The institution in British Columbia will be known as the "Prince of Wales Fairbridge Farm School."

Installs New Equipment

Montreal Institute One Of Leading Cancer Cure Hospitals

The Radlith Institute of Montreal has become one of the leading cancer treatment hospitals in the world with the installation of apparatus generating 500,000 volts. The institute hopes to raise the voltage mark to 1,200,000 in a short while, Dr. J. E. Gendreau, director, announced.

"Ultra penetrating X-rays at a voltage of 500,000 were put in operation only after extremely careful physical measurements preparatory to cancer treatments, and the apparatus has been used for the first time on patients," Dr. Gendreau said.

"This apparatus is the largest and most powerful in Canada and is surpassed by a few in the United States or Europe," he said. He stressed the necessity of adequate institutes in different countries to fight cancer with great success.

solution, and, accompanied by Edith Carr, rides out to Red Water to test his theory, which proves correct, and they are given directions mentioned in the prosecutor's notebook. As they return to the ranch, they meet Dustin leaving the house, who purposely, but unsuccessfully tries to ride down Stone.

Sam Dustin, then ready to tell Gerald Keene's arrival in Saco, cunningly suggests to Peyot Gregg that Keene or Kane was a relative of the old prospector, and was seeking information as to the old man's whereabouts. If Peyot wanted to live, and prevent finding out about the murder, Gregg should shoot Keene when he arrived.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XV.—Continued.

Already elated by the drinks he had had at the dinner and by the arrival of his young partner, Carr was ablaze. His face was flushed and his voice cheery as he headed for the bar. Behind him Frank Crewe kept close. He hated nights like this and he waited only the first chance to get old Joe back to the Hour-glass. At a word Carr turned on him.

"Oh, shut up, Frank! I've not been in town for a year. This is my night to howl. . . . Here Stone. . . .!" He grabbed Duro by an elbow. "You and Keene are the boys for my money. You've come just in time. Keene. We'll go into closed session to-morrow and show the Broken Spur a thing or two. . . . Come up, Keene, an' take your liquor. . . ."

Peyot's eyes focused on the slender figure that stood by old Joe's side. So that was the man who meant to hang him! His eyes lit red! He licked his lips with a dry tongue and stared across the room. The door slapped open and Sam Dustin slouched to the bar. If his quick glance took in that back door, if he saw the dark figure of Peyot huddled in the shadows, no one knew it.

"I reckon we can do better at the hotel, Mr. Carr. . . ." Peyot saw the newly arrived Gerald Keene touch the old ranch-man's arm and he caught the sharp reply.

"Bettie's will?" This liquor's good enough. I'm tired of talkin' like this. I've been talkin' all my life. You're all right, son. Any nephew of old Peter Vinton's bound to be all right. Not like these lousy Broken Spur heel-taps. They've been lootin' hair an' hide off the Hour-glass for five years now an' . . ."

He swept on in a mad speech. There were Broken Spur men in that crowd and at a motion from Dustin they swept aside into a group, dark-faced and angry; ready to start a fight at a moment's notice. Peyot sensed the tenseness. Suddenly Carr swung away from the bar and with Gerald Keene at his elbow headed for the roulette table.

"Gim' me a stack of chips . . . Not white . . . Blues an' reds . . . Now watch! I'm playing Cripple Creek. One, three, five, seven an' eleven. . . ."

Twice he repeated his plays and each time the reluctant cashier thrust his winnings across the table. Suddenly the big electric light over the table flickered and died and a voice shrilled out:

"Somebody's changin' his luck. A bigger passed the power-house. Keep your hands on yore winnin', you wall-eyed fools. . . ."

The big light blinked once and went out again in a blackness that tasted of smoke and dirt and sweat.

"Somebody see what the hell all that wire. Look to the fuse-box!"

Peyot heard the front door slam. This was the one moment that might never come again. It was the opportunity he had hoped for!

He wriggled like an eel inside that door and headed straight for the roulette table where had had seen Gerald Keene standing by the elbow of old Joe Carr. He knew that room as a horse knows his own stall and at six feet a man cannot miss even with a two-and-a-half-inch Derringer.

The darkness hung like a curtain. Men pawed about the floor waiting for light but before that light could come there was a short, barking report, a cur'ous metallic smack like a fire-cracker exploding in a can, but there were no sparks to break the darkness. Then suddenly the room was flooded with white light that blinded every eye and men blinked at each other dazed and staring.

"God God! Look there. . . . A man shrilled out in terror.

Gerald Keene lay across the roulette table with blood running over the green cloth and his fingers convulsively clutching at the wheel.

"Shut the door!" shouted a voice from the rear. "A man's been shot. . . ."

That was no new thing in the Silver Dollar but the doors shut as if by magic. Stone thrust the milling crowd aside and was in turn forced back by Crewe.

"Let me have him. . . ." Stone laid the limp figure on the table. "For God's sake some one get a doctor. The man's been shot. . . ."

"Who is he?" Where'd he come from? Who is he? A dozen voices shouted the questions as though the answers could make any difference.

"It's Gerald Keene, half-owner of the Hour-glass," said Crewe. "He only got to town this evenin' . . ."

"Keep that door shut till the Sheriff gets here," said a sharp voice.

"This is a matter for the law I reckon. . . ." Dustin strode forward. His hat was awry; his coat half-off and his face was red. Anger was plain. Crewe took one look at him, but Joe Carr was first.

"By God," he said. "It's a new card to find Broken Spur men on the side of law an' decency. But the man's right. . . ."

"Hold everybody," said a sharp voice.

Stone thrust forward impatiently. "Sheriff," he said sharply; "for Heaven's sake get some action."

That brought Garry back to the present.

"Lay your guns on the bar," he said. "Every man's under suspicion till this mess is sifted. Has anybody left here since the shootin'?"

Stone laid his own gun on the bar and stared at Dustin who followed suit. Every man in the room tramped up to the bar and laid his gun on it to be carefully examined by Garry.

"Some one in this outhouse got a Derringer cached," he said curtly.

"No, sense wastin' time over a forty-fives when I know it was a forty-ox hit him. You first, Dustin. . . ."

Dustin raised both hands and grimmed as his questioner felt every inch of his person. Then he stepped aside and man after man was subjected to the closest examination. Each, as Garry nodded, stepped back grinning.

"Nothin' doin'," he said sharply.

"You can all of you go. . . ."

One by one they departed and Garry examined every window in the room but all were closed. No pistol could have been thrown out after it had been fired.

"Damned if I kin figger it out," muttered Garry. "There's nobody left but the Hour-Glass men. It's sure they never shot one of their own crowd. However . . . I got to search you all," he said suddenly.

"You first, Stone. . . ."

Carr, still a little dazed by the liquor he had drunk and by the rapidly occurring events, stood staring at them as, first, Stone and then Crewe, stepped up to Garry and were examined.

". . . You now, Joe. . . ."

Little Helps For This Week

The Lord heareth your murmurings which ye murmur against Him. Exodus 16:8.

Without murmur, uncomplaining. In His hand. Leave whatever things thou canst Not understand.

One great characteristic of holiness is never to be complaining—never to complain. Each complaint drags us down a degree in our upward course. If you would discern in whom the spirit of God dwells, watch that person and notice whether you ever hear him complain.

When we wish things to be otherwise than they are we lose sight of the great practical parts of the life of godliness. We wish and wish when, if we had done all that lies on us, we should fall quietly into the hands of God. Such wishing cuts the very sinew of our privileges and consolations. You are leaving me for a time; and you say you wish you could leave me better, or leave me with some assistance; but if it is right for you to go it is right for me to meet what lies before me without a wish that I had less to meet, or were better able to meet it.

Times Work By Candles

When Two Burn Out English Flint-Knapper Goes Home

There is one man in England who still times his work by candles.

He is George Ashley, who burrows deep in the earth at Brandon in Suffolk, searching for the flints which his mate Herbert Field chips to fit the old flintlock guns still used in primitive places. They are two of the last flint-knappers, and old Mr. Ashely is surely the only man in England who prefers a candle to a watch as a timekeeper.

Though he is seventy-one he still makes his way each morning down a shaft fifty feet deep, looking for flints as did Stone Age men in pits close by when they wanted to renew their arrowheads and axes. Besides his lunch he takes with him two candles, and when these are burned through he climbs up out of the pit and goes home. They tell him when his day's work is done.

Housing Plan

Housing Scheme in Winnipeg Most Successful

The 1920 housing scheme had been "most successful" in Winnipeg, Alexander Officer, chief inspector of the division of sanitation and housing, told the parliamentary committee on housing at Ottawa.

The house had been built at an average cost of $4,000 for "white-collar men," who liquidated their obligation in the form of rent over a period of years, he said. The city housing commission had met all its obligations and continued to have money in hand.

Mr. Officer emphasized his own particular concern was public health. In Winnipeg, out of 46,810 houses, there were only 247 without sewer and water connections. He doubted if there was another city in Canada with the same record.

The Week In the Legislature

By J. S. Cowper

Each day the split between the government and the Aberhart Social Credit group widens. Accusations of bad faith are now made.

Major C. H. Douglas at first was announced to get $5000 to come in May and act as adviser on Social Credit to the government—which is going to the electors in May or June. Now it turns out he has a contract that calls for $13,000 in all. Whether it will be increased during the week remains to be seen.

With Hon. G. N. Johnson and Mr. E. Browne attacking the Aberhart plan before service clubs on the radio, and other government supporters attacking it derisively in the legislature, Mr. Aberhart is urged by his supporters not to accept the invitation of Premier Reid to work out a Social Credit plan for the government. They accuse the government of acting in bad faith. A resolution passed at the general convention of Social Credit groups charged the government with duplicity, saying the invitation to Mr. Aberhart "at this time savours of manœuvreing for political advantage."

During the past week Premier Reid announced that the government will not interfere with the present electoral boundaries and has no thought of redistribution at this session. The Premier said that Hon. George Hoagland was talking for himself and not for the government in a recent speech in the House when he advocated cutting down the Legislature to twenty members selected at large.

W. R. Howson, Liberal leader, who is hospitable to Social Credit, excoriated the government for its backing and filling on the question. He charged that Major Douglas is being brought to the province for purely political reasons to create a diversion before election time.

"The Liberals were the only party in the House that came out flat-footed in favor of bringing Major Douglas here" declared W. Harry Ross (Lib) of Calgary in asserting that the Liberal party is anxious to find out the merits of Social Credit with a view to applying them to the province.

Speaking to a resolution moved by Peter A. Misikew (Lib) Victoria and Frank R. Falconer (Lib) Athabasca which approves the engagement of Major Douglas, while deplored that the government had not followed his previous advice, and in now calling him in at a time when nothing he can advise can be submitted to the electorate, Mr. Howson defended Social Credit from Attorney-general Lymburn's implication that it is "a crack-brained scheme". He assailed the Attorney-general for not having used his staff to find out to what extent Social Credit is applicable under the provincial constitution, and what changes in the constitution may be necessary to make it fully applicable.

Peter Misikew suggested that the reason Major Douglas insists on payment of his fee in advance is that he is aware of the precarious hold the Reid government has on office. Among those who came out flatly against Social Credit were Hugo C. Farthing (Cons) Calgary, O. L. McPherson (U. F. A.) Little Bow, and A. M. Matheson (U. F. A.) Vegreville.

Another heated fight in Legislature was over the effort of the Liberals, headed by W. R. Howson K. C. to prevent the gasoline tax from being raised.

Said Mr. Howson "If the government had taken steps to decrease the cost of gasoline I would not object to tax being raised. But in this province we raise more gasoline than we can possibly use, and have a large surplus to export. Yet in spite of that we pay as high or higher than any other part of the Dominion. We ought to be able to buy gasoline for less than those to whom it is shipped outside the province."

L. A. Giroux (Lib) Grouard, demanded a full investigation into the oil industry and John J. Bowlen (Lib) Calgary called on the government to fulfill its disregarded promise to give the municipalities a share of the gas tax. Hugh J. Montgomery (Lib) Wetaskiwin, protested against the government collecting increased gas taxes before the bill sanctioning the increase had passed the House.

Premier Reid, Hon. Russell Love and strong contingent of U. F. A. members fought strenuously to have the gasoline tax raised. By a vote of 22 to 13 they succeeded.

Another fight the Liberals staged came when Mr. Howson moved that the Workmen's Compensation Act "should be completely reviewed and amended so as to insure that a injured employee shall receive his just claims and particularly to provide for Board of Review of all cases where dissatisfaction has arisen, or may arise in the future".

Mr. Howson said that during the past year, over a hundred cases had been reported to him of unfair treatment by the board, not one of which was able to get a Board of Review. He advocated the establishment of an independent Board of Review to see that every injured man obtained justice.

Following the ruling of the Board of Governors of the provincial university that no member of the faculty may run for office, President R. C. Wallace appeared before a committee of Legislature. He came to oppose a bill presented by Fred J. White, provincial Labor leader, aimed at allowing Prof. W. H. Alexander to run as a labor member in the forthcoming election.

Dr. Wallace took upon himself full responsibility for the edict of the Board of Governors, saying that the University is regarded as an arm of the government and it would be fatal to the work of the University to let it get into politics.

Mr. Alexander was a witness too. He flatly asserted that the order is aimed against him, though he has given 27 years of service to the University and has been scrupulous to see that his Labor beliefs were never allowed to creep into his teaching of classics.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES

The service next Sunday will be in charge of the pastor. The sermon topic will be "The Seven Words of the Cross." All are cordially invited.

On Thursday there will be a special event in the church which no one should overlook. The junior choir will give a sacred cantata entitled "The Thorn-crowned King" at 8:15 p.m. This will prove to be a musical treat, and at the same time it will carry inspiration in keeping with the Easter season. A collection will be taken in aid of the junior choir fund.

Last Friday the C.G.I.T. put on a splendid evening's entertainment in Heddle's hall. It was a varied program containing two main items in the shape of playlets, both of which were splendidly put on. Mrs. S. Johnson was to be congratulated on the success of her work. The funds raised were for special C.G.I.T. purposes.

C.G.I.T. Concert Success

The Irma C.G.I.T. under the able leadership of Mrs. N. S. Johnson, had a successful concert in Heddle's hall last Friday evening. The two short plays were presented in fine style, each player doing their stuff in an earnest way. The choruses by the girls were well received and also the instrumental numbers by Miss A. Knudson and Miss Eileen Geeson. A reading by Mrs. Johnson in her usual pleasant manner and a due by Mrs. Locke and Mrs. Carter comprised most of the program. The girls feel very grateful for the help they received and are the better financially for something over $21.

Thirteen Years of Progress

ON the third of February, 1922, just thirteen years ago, the first three element vacuum tube made in Canada was manufactured in the Montreal plant of the Northern Electric Company, Limited, and was known as the "Presto" tube owing to its size and low power rating. There are today 140 standardized types of radio vacuum tubes produced in Canada, not to mention those used for telephone communication and other purposes.

QUESTING

My dear little son, thirteen months old, stood in the doorway, sweetly bold, Called to father, for whom he was named, In a one-word sentence, neatly framed.

And "What-cha doin'?" he sweetly called, In a voice that all my heart enthralls.

Through infancy and childhood free, In boyhood and adolescence,

Questing and learning all the time, He arrived at the threshold of manhood's prime.

Then to the World War he was gone; I sensed the horror of battle zone.

Back with fragments of our air force,

Then a civilian's life, of course.

Now, he has gone the invisible road,

The way inexorable forces showed.

And it's I who am asking, my heart of him,

"What are you doing?" in spaces dim.

Are you still developing soul of power

Thro time without any date or hour?

Are you reaching, acquiring ideals enhanced,

As horizons widen when higher glances?

Dearer and sweeter are you become

With selfless service in "heavenly home".

O, my darling! I'd worth be

To meet you in eternity.

So I fold my hands, dumb, acquiesce,

In all the sorrows that on me press;

Accept the thorn as a surgeon's probe,

Cleansing me for a purer robe,

That I be entitled and rendered fit

In heavenly space with you.

Never a child held in my arms

But you to increase a mother's charms.

I've travelled a slow, dark, painful way;

May I be with you in celestial day?"

—Nancy O. Parke.
